Mrs. Russell Rosenberger, president; Mrs. Herman Steumpfle, secretary; Mrs. Edwin Freed, treasurer; Mrs. George H. Thrush Jr., historian; Mrs. B. H. Seltzer, registrar; Mrs. James Allison, statistical secretary; Mrs. A. Z. Mrs. Reaser Speaks

The slate of officers was presented by Mrs. L. S. Long, chairman of the nominating committee, who was assisted by Mrs. Kramer and Mrs. William G. Weaver.

A rising vote of thanks to "this year's officers and to those of past years" was given.

Mrs. Paul L. Reaser, wife of the pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, and a member of the Woman's League for 20 years, spoke on "The Power of One Woman."

"Education without Christ is the greatest danger to modern civilization. Education is wonderful for the lives of young people who know Christ. That mission lies with us who are within arm's reach of the campus."

"Never estimate the power of one woman — but many women united by Christ surpass the power of one. We must bring that religious emphasis more and more to the heart of the campus."

"Missionary Work"

"I feel as if I should like to think of the Woman's League as anything but missionary work. The Woman's League of today is the result of one consecrated woman with an idea put into action. Her name was Mrs. Mary Stuckenberg."

Mrs. Mary Stuckenberg organized the league about 46 years ago to aid Gettysburg College in "a spiritual, financial and moral way." She was the widow of a Lutheran clergyman. Her idea kindled while assisting her brother-in-law organize a league at Wooster College.

Ike Will Make Two Television Budget Talks

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the only way to make real cuts in spending is to bring about an easing of world tensions.

And, he told a news conference, he contemplates two nationwide television-radio addresses in an effort to muster public support for his budget and general legislative program.

Eisenhower said he first thought he could do the job in one TV radio talk, but found he couldn't cover all the ground in less than two.

Can Make Some Cuts

As for his budget, Eisenhower said it would be possible to make some minor reductions in his $71,800,000,000 spending proposals. It would be strange, he added, if Congress with all its experience could not find some savings.

But Eisenhower said vigorously the budget can't be cut markedly until the international situation has eased very, very greatly.

Humphrey To Leave

HUMPHREY — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been telling him for the last two years it will be necessary for him to leave the Cabinet to take care of personal business, but Humphrey has not yet submitted a resignation.

Just how long Humphrey will be able to remain is uncertain at this time. Eisenhower declined comment on reports that Robert B. Anderson, former deputy secretary of defense, will succeed Humphrey as head of the Treasury. There will be no announcement on a successor, Eisenhower said, until the nomination goes to the Senate.

Save Town From Ruin By Blaze

BOSTON (AP) — Nearly 1,000 firefighters today saved the fashionable town of Manchester, Mass., from ruin by one of dozens of fires that roared through tinder-dry New England forests.

The fire in Manchester was the worst of numerous blazes which broke out yesterday and last night in woodlands parched by a 33-day drought.

Firefighters from 38 communities and personnel from the National Guard, Navy, Coast Guard, the state and high schools and colleges battled the Manchester blaze along a mile and a half front before they checked it.

Dozens of forest fires also broke out in New York State's parched forests, in eastern Pennsylvania and parts of New Jersey. All New England states but Maine have closed forests because of the drought.

DIRECTORS OF GIRL SCOUTS PLAN PROGRAM

Plans for a number of activities were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Girl Scout Council in the Scout office in The First National Bank building, Lincoln Square.

Mrs. Ross Schwartz, Biglerville, president of the county council, reported on the recent Region 3 Presidents' meeting in Washington, which she attended.

Day camp staff meetings were announced as follows: May 9, Upper Adams at 8 p.m. at the Girl Scout office; May 16, Littlestown at the Littlestown fire hall at 8 p.m.; May 23, Conowingo at Hampton fire hall at 8 p.m.

An invitation for all intermediate and senior Girl Scout units of the county to participate in the Memorial Day parade here was accepted. The national Girl Scout regulations prohibit Brownies from marching in parades. The Scouts will meet at the Meade School on Springs Ave. at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of May 30 in uniform.

Each troop will provide its own color guard, and all Scouts are to provide their own flowers which will be placed on the graves of veterans in the National Cemetery.

Plan Parade Float

The council voted to enter a float in the historical section of the Fourth of July parade here. The committee to arrange the float includes: Mrs. Carroll Arter, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. William Lentz, Oliver Peifer, Mrs. Ross White, Mrs. Ross Schwartz and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols.

Named as delegates to the national Girl Scout Convention to be held in Philadelphia in November.

COUNTY UNITS MOVE OFFICES

Today was moving day at the court house. Two organizations exchanged offices.

After vinyl-plastic flooring was laid in the offices of the Child Welfare Services, Tuesday, the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association moved into that suite of offices in the rear of the court house opposite the county commissioners' office.

This afternoon, new flooring was laid in the office of the county Extension association and the Child Welfare service will move there.

The change, according to the commissioners, was made because of the increased need for space by the Extension office which includes the county agent, an associate county agent, an assistant county agent, a home economist, and two secretaries.

The Child Welfare Services has a staff of three. The commissioners said these two rooms will be divided into three rooms.

May Increase 1958 Postal Budget By Many Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield advised Republican congressional leaders today that increasing mail volume may require expanding the 1958 postal budget by millions of dollars.

In the face of the congressional budget cutting drive, this word was offered at President Eisenhower's weekly meeting with GOP Senate and House leaders. Summerfield sat in on the session.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the required extra funds might be on the order of 43 million dollars. That is the amount of emergency funds Congress is providing to see the Post Office Department through the present fiscal year ending June 30. Summerfield asked for 29 million.

Knowland also told reporters that Eisenhower indicated he will make a television-radio appeal to the people on behalf of "budget and defense needs" at an early date.

This was the most positive word so far that Eisenhower definitely will carry his case to the public for his 72-billion-dollar budget. Knowland said no specific date was mentioned.

In advance of the White House party, congressional Democrats joined Republicans in applauding Eisenhower's decision to carry the fight for his program directly to the people.

$5,540 GIVEN TO FUND DRIVE OF CANCER SOCIETY

Contributions to the current fund drive being conducted by the Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society now total $5,540. Sterling Musselman, president of the organization, announced today.

Approximately one-half of the soliciting teams have reported. Fund Campaign Chairman Douglas Smith said.

In connection with the financial report the county unit also issued a mid-year activities report, based on the organization's fiscal year.

So far in the six-month period 5,220 cancer dressings have been given to patients in Adams County.

Need Many Dressings

Mrs. Henrietta Blocker, executive director of the cancer society unit, said, "Cancer patients require many kinds of dressings, and a large number of them. The cancer society is able to produce the dressings for less than two cents each because of the large number of volunteers who sew and pack the materials according to medical specifications."

Mrs. Blocker said that while goods used for dressings are donated by a number of local residents to the county unit and in addition various groups of women meet during the year to make the dressings which are then available free to any person suffering from the disease.

In connection with the education program 5,900 pieces of literature have been distributed in the county and 13 film showings to 465 people have been made.

Other Services

"Comforting articles from our loan closet aided 11 patients and ten patients who could not afford medication received it through the Adams County unit," Mrs. Blocker said. Two new adjustable wheel chairs have been purchased.

Old Dorm's Fate Not Yet Decided

The fate of historic Old Dorm at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary was left in the hands of the executive committee of the seminary's board of directors Tuesday afternoon after lengthy discussion at a full meeting of the board.

The action places the matter in the hands of the executive committee for further study and with power to take action if that becomes necessary before the next annual meeting of the board in May, 1958.

Earlier board action had decreed that the dormitory should be razed but the board Tuesday received a Property committee recommendation that an effort be made to secure funds from outside sources to retain the building as a landmark without any thought of occupying it. Estimates on the cost of tearing down the building that General Lee used as a vantage point to watch the progress of the Battle of Gettysburg were also before the board.

PERFECT TEETH TO EARN MOVIE

Upwards of 700 Gettysburg parochial and public school children will have an opportunity to see a movie next Tuesday as their reward for having perfect teeth.

Miss Ellen Miller, school nurse, announced that this year instead of a picnic type party as held in prior years a movie party will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Gettysburg High School gymnasium.

Decision to change the party to movie attendance was dictated by the large number of children involved, she said.

The party and the perfect tooth program are sponsored by the Gettysburg Rotary Club and the school nurses to encourage children to keep their teeth in perfect order by constant care and regular dental visits.

Those children who at the end of the school year are able to produce "perfect tooth" slips from their dentists are rewarded by the presentation of pins and a party.

Bonfires in daylight hours must be attended at all times, according to law, Staub reminded, and garbage may not be burned at any time in the community.

Staub urged persons accumulating debris during "spring house cleanings" to put the debris along alleys to be picked up starting next Monday by borough employees during the annual spring "Clean-Up-Paint-Up-Fix-Up" week which extends from next Monday to Saturday.

GETTYSBURG IS SELECTED FOR COLLEGE STUDY

Gettysburg College is one of 20 colleges and universities selected to participate in a study of the retention and withdrawal of college students being conducted with the cooperation of the United States Department of Education, Health and Welfare. Results of the studies will be used by admissions personnel in certain phases of their planning for present-day and future conditions in that area.

Because of the completeness of their findings and returns during a similar preliminary study several years ago, the 20 participating institutions have received congressional grants ranging from $2,000 to $6,000 depending on the size of the college, to continue with further investigations. Gettysburg, as a representative small college, has received $2,000.

Others Participating

In addition to Gettysburg, the institutions participating in the study are Berea College, Bowling Green State University, Carson-Newman College, Colgate University, Cornell University, Eastern Michigan College, Georgetown University, Georgia Institute of Technology, Grinnell College, Indiana University, Maryland State Teachers College, Mary Washington College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Pennsylvania State University, Pratt Institute, Temple University, University of Connecticut, University of Tennessee, and Wayne State University.

The latter study will deal primarily with an investigation of the student's lack of progress in terms of previous preparation.

St. John's Lutheran First

The motor caravan of about 30 persons went first to St. John's Lutheran Church along the Taneytown Rd. at the edge of Littlestown, founded on November 13, 1763, by Lutheran families of the area as the High German Lutheran congregation.

The first church was built of logs and services were held monthly. The German language was used in the church for over 100 years. Described as the "mother of all Lutheran churches of this area," the present church is the congregation's fourth building. It was built after the church edifice was destroyed by fire in 1915 after being struck by lightning. The tour was welcomed at the church by present pastor, the Rev. William Karns.

Then the historians drove through Littlestown to the Millard E. Basehor farm two and a half miles northeast of Littlestown, part of 10,000 acres for which John Digges secured a warrant in 1727 along Little Conowingo Creek. Mr. Kroh pointed out a stone springhouse and summer house which date back to the days of Andrew Shriver who moved to that site from Perkiomen Valley in 1734 and bought 100 acres of land from Digges with 100 pairs of shoes he made.

ASK PASTORS TO PROMOTE SOIL CONSERVATION

The Adams County Soil Conservation District has sent pastors throughout the county material on "Soil Stewardship Week" to be held May 26 to June 2.

Sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts the week is held "in the hope that it will be an influence in awakening man to his responsibility as steward of the soil."

"The use of the soil in accordance with God's directions is the concern of the church as it is of the state and nation. In fact, studies show a direct relationship between the productive power of the land and the strength of the church serving the people who work the land."

Venerer of Living Soil
"In the creation of His earth God provided a thin veneer of living soil to sustain mankind. The soil averages only nine inches in depth. It is principally a zone of microscopic life which converts minerals into plant food. Without this zone most plant life would vanish. Animal life would go too. Within the time of a few generations, we in this nation, because of the way we have used this resource have lost about a third of this important nine inches of soil. The rest of it is going much too fast," according to the National Association.

The booklets sent the pastors calling for church observation of Soil Stewardship Week conclude, "Soil and water are gifts of God." It is the moral responsibility of all people to care for and use wisely our soil and other natural resources. The man on the land has a particular moral responsibility as a steward of the soil in the conservation of the land he tills and he who contributes to the destruction of the soil sins against God and man."

The booklets were prepared by Dr. Richard O. Comfort, of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.; Rev. Michael P. Dineen, executive secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference; Rev. Henry S. Randolph, of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and Rev. E. W. Muller, National Lutheran Council.

"YOUR LAST GOODBYE"

When you said goodbye, my heart shed tears . . . for I knew I'd lost life's charm . . . so I walk tonight down the same old lane . . . with a memory on my arm . . . and the dreams we shared haunt each step I take . . . I can see your smiling face . . . then I speak your name but my voice resounds . . . like an echo out in space . . . I have heard it said it better to . . . have loved than not at all . . . still the pain inside my broken heart . . . looms as prelude to a fall . . . as the stars light up the evening sky . . . dreary shadows cast their spell . . . to think that but a night ago . . . arm in arm we roamed this dell . . . now I'm all alone with a memory . . . perhaps it was meant to be . . . but the night you said your last goodbye . . . was the end of the world for me.

the land dispute between Pennsylvania and Maryland that led to the first murder in what is now Adams County, only a mile from the Shriver farm at Kitzmiller's mill. The Shriver farm in what is now Union Twp. was not "definitely" in Pennsylvania until the Mason and Dixon survey placed the line about four miles south of Shriver's home.

Mr. Kroh said the Shriver farm has been in the Basehor family for four generations. He said also that Shriver's were visited by war parties of Indians traveling through this section who stopped there at the never-failing spring for water and food.

Then the caravan drove to Christ Reformed Church, east of Littlestown and north of the Hanover Rd., where they saw Shriver's grave, with the inscription still legible in German, graves of members of his family, of Peter Klien, or Peter Little, the founder of Littlestown, and of Jacob Kitzmiller, involved in the Dudley Digges murder case.

Have Building Plans

The group was greeted by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, and was told by Mr. Kroh the story of "one of the oldest Reformed churches west of the Susquehanna." The church had no minister until 1745, worshipped in the first schoolhouse in the county until 1755 when a log church was erected and the graveyard that is still in use was laid out on ground secured from the Penns. It was rebuilt in 1798 and again in 1877 and Mr. Kroh said building plans are now being considered by the church. Oldest legible tombstone in the graveyard that flanks the church on three sides is dated 1772, Mr. Kroh said.

He spoke briefly of the Old Monocacy Rd. that passed the church linking Wrightsville on the Susquehanna with Frederick on the Monocacy. It passed through York, Hanover and Littlestown and was traveled by many notables including Washington and Franklin after it was laid out as a road after being established first as an Indian trail.

On the return to Gettysburg, the caravan drove past the site of the Kitzmiller mill on Little Coneyago Creek, near the Hanover Shoe Farms.

Another tour is planned for June 4 but the route has not been announced.

CUB SCOUTS MAY CAMP OVERNIGHT

Cub Scouts who have reached Webelos rank will have an opportunity for the first time to attend Camp Tuckahoe overnight this summer, John C. W. Riddle, chairman of the Black Walnut District Committee, announced today.

The Webelos Cubs will camp at Tuckahoe from noon June 28 until the close of a camp fire program on the night of June 29, Riddle said.

Cost of the encampment will be $4.50 per Cub, of which $2 will be paid at registration and $2.50 at the camp.

For each four boys, or fraction thereof from a unit, there must be one adult leader. Riddle explained that a Cub pack sending six boys will be required to have two leaders present, who could be either the Cubmaster and assistants, or committee members, or fathers of the Cubs.

Each Cub should bring a uniform, three heavy blankets, sleeping bag, raincoat, rubber shoes, underwear, pajamas, wash cloth, soap, comb, and similar toilet articles.

Each of the Cubs will be examined by the camp physician upon his arrival at the camp.

WILL CONFRONT BECK TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rack-ets investigators said they will confront Teamsters Union President Dave Beck today with evidence alleging that he "used his position for his own personal profit and gain."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) so described testimony to be given before his special Senate committee which has been looking into Beck's activities as president of the 1½-million member International Brotherhood of Teamsters. McClellan and Robert F. Kennedy, chief committee counsel, said Beck would not be the lead-off witness in this new series of hearings.

Beck invoked the protection of the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when quizzed by the committee in March about whether he had diverted to his own use some $320,000 of union funds.

McClellan and Kennedy declined to disclose who would be their first witness. They told reporters the hearings would cover a period of several days, probably extending into next week.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Thursday, May 9, through Monday, May 13: Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Midatlantic States, western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: Temperature will probably average 7 degrees above normal south and 5 degrees above normal north, rising trend and then continued warm, precipitation may occur as showers and scattered thunderstorms Thursday and Friday and possibly over the weekend but may be rather spotty with amounts around ¼ inch.

The slot machines were seized for unpaid taxes amounting to $250. The raids were in Pottsville, Frackville and Girardville.

Robert J. Calhoun, group supervisor of the Harrisburg Intelligence Division of the Federal Internal Revenue Service, said possible criminal aspects of the slot machine operations were being studied and that no charges had been filed against the operators.

Today's Talk

CARE

Care is a small word but it enters into big things when rightly applied. It's the care we give to our bodies that gives us health, courage and hopefulness. It's the care that we give to precious things that keeps rewarding us.

In a recent book on Robert Frost the author, Sidney Cox, said of him: "Robert Frost is serious because of caring." We are sure to live a much happier life if we take care of things, and care for those ideas that put us most on solid ground. The "don't care" person gets nowhere.

Anything that is important is worth care — care in living up to all our obligations, and taking care to give encouragement to those who most need it. If we didn't circle our friendships with care, I wonder how long any of them would last. It's the care we give to all things that gives its return in personal satisfaction.

It is not difficult to appraise a man who drives a dirty and damaged car. You can guess that his business is not a very profitable one, and that his friends do not get the care they deserve. Friends need a great deal of care over the years if you would continue to love and be proud of them.

Care in one's personal appearance pays in many ways. People are attracted to a neatly groomed woman, or man. And how we love to look upon a beautiful home with well-kept grounds where it stands. To care is one of the essentials for a happy and successful life. Take care not to injure the feelings of another. Be kind and considerate, and God will greatly bless you and all those with whom you come in contact.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Three Baby Squirrels"

Just Folks

NEW BABY

He'll now be wakened in the night
And he may have to walk the floor.

But he will think it quite all right
To lose of sleep an hour or more.

He'll learn a formula to make.
A carriage he will push and steer.

And there are pleasures he'll forsake
Because the wished-for baby's here.

Oh, many changes must be made.
The first smile he will wait to see;

He's taken up a father's trade
And fathers all must patient be;

He'll have to know what infants wear
And what to do when tears appear;

He'll give up many a gay affair
To stay at home. The baby's here!

A husband is a care-free man;
He only has a wife to please.

But now for years he has to plan
And there's a triumph he foresees.

Now he has splendid hopes and dreams,
Delights to share and hurts to fear.

And life has purpose, and it seems
Much different now the baby's here.

ADOPT SPECIAL POSTAL CACHET

A special postal cachet marking the bicentennial celebration of Carlisle Barracks has been authorized by the Post Office Department. This historic military installation, founded in 1757 by Col. John Stanwix of the British Army, will observe its 200th anniversary on May 30.

The cachet, designed by M. Sgt. John S. Denney of the Reproduction Section of the United States Army War College, has a center shield on which are depicted a colonial soldier and a present-day soldier, both with their weapons at "present arms." Between the two figures is a mailed fist holding the torch of knowledge. The center design is taken from the coat of arms of the Army War College, the Army's senior educational institution, which has been located at Carlisle Barracks since 1951. Above the shield is a scroll which reads "1757 Bicentennial 1957" and below, a second scroll reading "Carlisle Barracks, Pa. Home of the U. S. War College."

Bullets Top Blue Jays 7-5 Via 3-Run Rally In Ninth; Host Diplomats Saturday

A three-run rally in the top of the ninth inning gave the Gettysburg College baseball team (4-7-1) a 7-5 victory over winless Johns Hopkins (0-9) at Baltimore Tuesday afternoon.

The Bullets were on the short end of a 5-4 score when they came up with their ninth inning rally. Frank Capitani opened with a single and went to second base on an error. After Larry Liedel went out, Leroy Bream singled. Art Hendley was purposely passed to load the bases. Ron Brandt, pinch-hitting for Jack Bream, walked to force home Capitani with the tying run. Owen Rezem, Bullet relief hurler, squeezed home L. Bream with a perfect bunt and Hendley scored the final run on Salem's error.

Hopkins scored runs in the first and fourth and then eliminated Bullet starter Bucky Walters with three tallies in the fifth. Roizman finishing and receiving credit for the triumph.

Gettysburg scored a run in the fifth on a walk to Don Brandt and Capitani's triple. Another came in the sixth on Hendley's triple and an error by Tebo.

In the eighth Coach "Hen" Bream's lads added two more. Hendley singled and moved to third on an outfield error. Roizman doubled home Hendley and followed with another run on Don Brandt's single.

Franklin and Marshall will meet the Bullets here Saturday afternoon.

VALDES FIGHTS HOLMAN ON TV

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban ranked ninth among heavyweights, hopes to improve his rating in a nationally televised bout against Johnny Holman of Chicago tonight.

Valdes is established locally as a 2½-to-1 favorite for the bout, which is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. EST over ABC-TV.

The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds, but both fighters predicted it would not go the limit, each announcing he was going for a knockout.

For Holman it is an opportunity to climb back into the top 10. He was knocked from the ratings after losing to second-ranked Eddie Machen and fourth-ranked Willie Pastrano.

Valdes, who once knocked out high-ranking Tommy Jackson, fell down the list after losing twice to Machen and to Bob Baker. Since then, Valdes has made a European tour in which he scored four knockouts in four bouts.

The fighters are evenly matched physically. Each is 6 feet, 3 inches tall, and each expects to enter the ring at about 205 pounds. Each has an 80-inch reach.

Redlegs Beat Brooklyn 9-2 To Run Win Streak To Eight Games; Phillies Beat Braves

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press
Birdie Tebbetts' unwavering faith in his much-maligned pitcher has begun to pay off for the "good-hit, no-pitch" Cincinnati Redlegs.

Last night, for the third game in succession, Tebbetts found a pitcher who could go nine innings. As a result the Redlegs have an eight-game winning streak, longest in the majors.

Hal Jeffcoat triumphed 9-2 over Brooklyn, putting Cincinnati half a game behind the second-place Dodgers.

The National League-leading Milwaukee Braves dropped an 8-4 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies as Robin Roberts stopped them with six hits. The New York Giants whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5 and the Chicago Cubs took a 14-inning, 10-8 decision from Pittsburgh.

The Cleveland Indians nipped New York 2-1 to snap the Yankees' six-game winning streak but lost the services of Herb Score for an indefinite period. The prize southpaw was struck in the right eye by a hard-hit liner off the bat of Gil McDougald in the first inning.

Bob Lemon took over and held the Yankees to six hits for his second victory in six decisions. Tom Sturdivant, the loser, walked Rocky Colavito in the eighth with the bases full to force home the winning run.

The Yankees retained their half-game, first-place lead over the Chicago White Sox, who were beaten by the Boston Red Sox 4-3. Ted Williams drove in three runs with a single and his sixth home run. Tom Brewer hurled a three-hitter.

Right-hander Dick Donovan of Chicago walked Williams three times—twice intentionally but the two times he didn't walk Ted it cost him. The Red Sox slugger singled in Boston's first run in the first inning and he drove in the Red Sox's last two runs with a homer.

This was disclosed in an announcement by the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, including some 40 agencies. It said the shipments of foods—cheese, powdered milk, beans, corn, rice, wheat, flour and cornmeal—had a total value of $99,895.942.

Newman's Market In Fairfield Marks Thirtieth Anniversary This Weekend

Grand Opening Of Remodeled, Redecorated Store Marks Great Strides Since Founding In '27

Newman's Market that opened in 1927 in Fairfield in an 18x18 foot storeroom will celebrate its 30th anniversary Friday and Saturday with a grand opening of the remodeled and redecorated store-room, one of the most modern and attractive in this part of the state.

Founded by E. H. Newman of Fairfield in the spring of 1927, the store now is managed by a partnership made up of Mr. Newman's three sons, Thomas, 38; Robert, 36, and William, 30. The Newman food market now occupies quarters nearly six times the size of the original butcher shop.

Newman's Market is a member of the Community Pure Food Stores and held a position on its board of directors in 1953-54. In 1954, Robert Newman was president of the board.

Awards For Visitors

Visitors to the store during the two-day anniversary and remodeling sale will have an opportunity to win 30 free food baskets. There will be 10 given away on Friday, 10 on Saturday and five each on Monday and Tuesday.

Another feature will be the giving away of $30 worth of free merchandise on Newman's new Food-o-Mat. Specially marked cans of food will be given away.

The customer who can cut exactly a pound from a 300-pound piece of cheese will get it free and in another special offer for anniversary customers a representative of Dulany Frozen Foods will be in the store Friday and Saturday to pass out 5-cent coupons toward the purchase of Dulany foods.

Changes In 30 Years

There will be free lollipops and balloons for the children.

Newman's complete, modern market with its Food-o-Mat, its mechanical checkout counter and its premium plan of "bonus bucks" is a far cry from the modest 18x18-foot butcher shop in which E. H. Newman set up business in the spring of 1927. He bought the meat market and home of "Cleve" Seiford when Mr. and Mrs. Newman and two of their three sons, Tom and Bob, moved to Fairfield from York County.

The store then consisted of a wooden box for storage of meat, a meat block, a wooden counter and the usual hand butchering tools.

No Wholesale Delivery

There was no wholesale delivery in Fairfield in 1927, so Mr. Newman went to Emmitsburg to pick up cold meat and franks from a Swift truck. He had no slicer then in the shop but sliced the cold meats by hand. There was no grinder in the store, either, and the only time he had ground meat to sell was on Saturday when beef was ground in the slaughter house with a gasoline engine-powered grinder.

Much of the meat Mr. Newman sold was peddled around the countryside and to nearby towns. His Tuesday route was Fairfield Station and Orrtanna and on Fridays it was Cashtown, McKnightstown, and Hilltown. On Saturdays he visited Orrtanna and the Mt. Carmel section. On rural route mornings, Mr. Newman rose at 4 a.m. to cut meat for his deliveries in a Model T Ford touring car equipped with a meat box on the back.

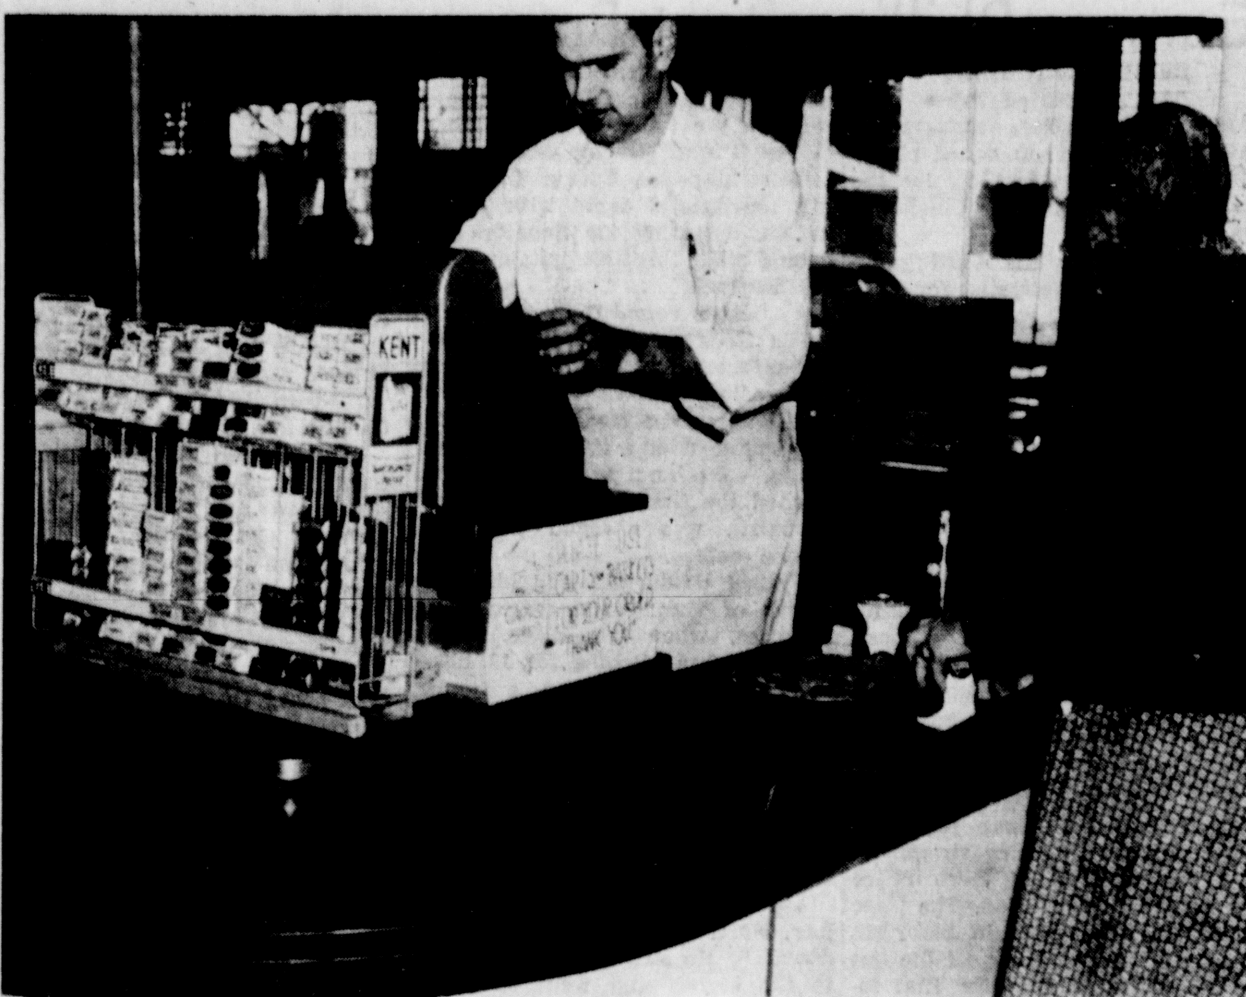

On days when the car was not in use for meat route deliveries, the meat box was hoisted off the rear with a block and tackle and racks were put on for hauling hogs and calves to the Newman slaughterhouse.

Slaughtered Own Meat

Then, as now, all the fresh meat sold at Newman's Market was slaughtered and processed in the Newman slaughterhouse establishment. In the early days the slaughtering, cutting and processing was done in a single room. Water was pumped by hand from a well 150 feet to the rear. Chestnut wood under open kettles was used for cooking. In the early years, Mr. Newman was assisted with the butchering by Howard Sanders.

Most of the cattle in the early years were purchased from Robert McNair, near Emmitsburg. For the first few years, the cattle were driven from the McNair farm along the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Rd. to nearby butchers and farmers.

Until the Newman boys were big enough to help, Mrs. Newman worked in the store while her husband delivered meat and operated the slaughterhouse and her work days often stretched to more than the now popular eight-hour day and her work weeks were more than 40 hours. Store hours were long too. On weekdays it opened at 7 a.m. and closed at 10 p.m. with midnight closing on Saturdays. On Sundays the hours were 8 a.m. to noon.

Serving 2nd Generation

In the years when Mr. Newman was establishing his business, the top price for cattle and hogs was 5 to 6 cents pound and roasts sold at 15 to 18 cents pound. Steaks were 25 and 28 cents a pound.

Newman's kitchen, directly back of the meat shop, was a favorite gathering place for card players who came in several evenings a week to play "58." The front door of the shop was equipped with a bell to summon a clerk when a customer came in.

Although the beginning was small and there was a lot of hard work along the way, it wasn't long until Newman's Butcher Shop became known for its fine fresh veal, beef, pork and pork products. Some bought meat there for three decades and the market is serving Fairfield section housewives have its second generation in many families.

Several Expansions

While the appearance and size of the shop have changed, Newmans are proud about one thing that has not changed . . . their system for curing hickory-smoked hams. The process was learned by Mr. Newman from his father and passed on to the sons who have found no modern way to improve it and Newman hams draw customers from far and wide to Newman's market.

Newman's Market grew by stages. In 1946 it was enlarged to about 900 square feet and a line of groceries was added. In 1950 it was enlarged again when about 300 square feet of space was added. The expansion just completed brings the market to about 1,900 square feet of floor space at the old location.

Along 80 feet of wall space, adjustable shelving has been placed where products are departmentalized with each section a different color. A valance with indirect lighting extends the entire length of the new shelving. Each department is clearly marked with letters of a color to match the department.

Sons Became Partners

The old wooden ice chest has given way to a large modern refrigerator with a track running from the slaughter house floor to the refrigerator for handy storage of halves of beef. What once was a one-room operation now is a three-room slaughterhouse . . . one section for slaughtering, a cutting room and a processing room. In the processing room the open kettle method is still used for making lard, scrapple and pudding but gas has been substituted for the chestnut wood as fuel.

Ten years ago, Mr. Newman took his two older sons into the business as partners and in the fall of 1947 they enlarged and added grocery lines. In 1953, William R. Newman bought his father's interest in the business. Bill had been discharged in 1949 from the U. S. Air Force. Since then E. H. Newman often has helped in the store and continues to live in Fairfield.

Bob Newman has two years at Temple University in a fine arts course that might have led him into the teaching profession. Tom served five years during World War II with an anti-aircraft unit and was in Germany a year.

Proud Of Food-o-Mat

One of the features of their modern market in which the Newman boys take particular pride is the 22-foot Food-o-Mat at the rear of the store. It was designed by Bob Newman and built by him and Glenn Deardorff.

Making shopping easier for the customer and saving time and shelf space for the market, the Food-o-Mat is restocked daily from its back in the stockroom. Its wood and metal frame and angle iron runners feed cans into the slots from which customers lift them. As each can or package is removed, another moves into place. This insures complete rotation of stocks for the approximately 60 vegetable and vegetable juices that take only four feet of space on the Food-o-Mat.

Use "Bonus Bucks"

Products sold through the Food-o-Mat include fruit and fruit juices, vegetables and vegetable juices, diabetic foods, heat and serve foods, soup, coffee, instant coffee, soap powder, detergents and liquid soap.

Another distinctive Newman feature is the premium plan inaugurated last year. At that time customers turned in register tapes in exchange for dinnerware. The plan was so successful that, in January of this year, the premium list was expanded to include Rubbermaid products, aluminum ware, table ware, and sporting equipment.

For the convenience of the customers, Newmans had "money" printed to take the place of register tape. Now all of the premium items are on display in the store and are distributed directly from the store. They are priced with the amount of "bonus bucks" required to buy each.

SAYS NEW TAX NOT NEEDED TO UP SCHOOL AID

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said today a plan to pay $30,000 in increased state aid for schools can be financed without imposing any new taxes.

"This is going to be kept within the 1½-billion-dollar budget for which we already have raised enough by retaining existing taxes," he told a newsman. "No new taxes of any kind are planned."

Johnson said the school aid plan—sharply revising the formula for making the payments—would be carried to the House Republican caucus later in the day in quest of rank-and-file support.

Some Technical Errors

Johnson said no floor action on the measure was planned until tomorrow—and possibly as late as next week. He said technical errors must be removed by amendment.

The GOP leader also disclosed that the huge general appropriation bill—usually a harbinger of early adjournment—was being drafted for possible presentation next week.

Only subsidies—such as those to state-aided colleges, hospitals and homes—will be kept out of the general appropriation bill, he said.

See Billion Dollars

If that plan is followed, the measure would probably appropriate the largest single sum in the history of the commonwealth—possibly as much as a billion dollars.

Other legislative developments: School Construction—The Senate received legislation last night raising the ceiling on school construction qualifying for state aid.

The 725-million-dollar ceiling in the current school year would jump immediately to 775 millions and increase in steps annually until it reaches $1,200,000,000 in the 1960-61 school year.

Reject Exemptions

Wage Tax Exemptions—The Senate turned down a plan to exempt non-residents from local wage taxes imposed by more than 400 municipalities and school districts in Pennsylvania. The vote was 5-29 and ran across party lines.

It left intact a Republican plan to remove Philadelphia's right to impose its 1½ per cent wage tax on persons who work in the city

Report Shortage In County Fund

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—A shortage of $14,073 in the petty cash fund for the Delaware County prothonotary's office before Howard F. Reed Jr. took office at the first of the year, was reported to the county commissioners yesterday.

An audit of all the county's governmental departments is being made by a Philadelphia accounting firm. The prothonotary office was the first audit completed.

The commissioners asked the county solicitor to call upon the bonding company to make good on the reported shortage.

Reed refused to accept the accounts of his predecessor, William C. Knodel, who retired Jan. 1 after eight years in office, until the books had been fully audited.

but live elsewhere.

Merchandise Stamps—The Senate was asked to look into the distribution of merchandise trade stamps—a practice Sen. Benjamin Donolow (D-Phila.) contended was so widespread that one funeral director offered them.

State Spending—The Senate State Government Committee approved a plan designed by Republicans to curtail spending by the Leader administration.

Rule On Sales Tax—It would require approval by the Joint State Government Commission before a department could allocate funds for functions other than those specifically cited by the legislature.

Removed was a provision that would have imposed a $10,000 fine and a five-year jail term for violating the requirement.

Sales Tax—The House concurred in Senate amendments to spell out specifically the exemption of coal from the 3 per cent sales tax. The measure went to Gov. Leader's desk.

Coal has not been taxed since the law went into effect last year but the State Justice Department said the act was so loosely written that a loophole could have brought about such a levy.

The measure also strengthens sales tax enforcement provisions.

Customers withdraw a can from the bottom (front) of the rack, and immediately the supply of the same article is replenished as cans slide down to the full position. Accuse 4 Boys Of Malicious Mischief

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP)—One youth is in jail and three other high school boys are awaiting Juvenile Court action today on charges of malicious mischief stemming from a series of dynamite blasts last weekend.

The four were charged with malicious mischief by dynamiting and with burglary at a hearing yesterday before Squire Al Matunis. Ronald Volcheck, 18, was held in jail. The other three, Richard Yotko, Francis Bzura, and Daniel Minkiewicz, all 17, were turned over to their parents.

COUNTIES GET MORE TAX TIME

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Senate committee voted today to give 59 counties an additional year, until Jan. 1, 1959, to establish a uniform system of taxing real estate.

The Local Government Committee approved and sent to the floor a deadline extension bill sponsored by Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington). At present the deadline is Jan. 1, 1958.

Chairman George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) said the committee amended the bill by cutting in half the two-year extension suggested by Lane.

The extension, if enacted into law, would be the second granted by the Legislature. The original uniform assessment law approved in 1943 set no deadline but the 1951 Legislature fixed Jan. 1, 1957, as the latest fourth through eighth class counties could adopt a uniform system. These counties have less than 250,000 population.

The 1955 Legislature extended the date one year after rejecting plans to grant a two year delay. All but 8 of the 59 counties have started work on a uniform system, Stevenson said.

The law and proposed legislation applies to all but Philadelphia, Allegheny, Berks, Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Montgomery and Westmoreland counties.

One Injured In Plant Explosion

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP)—An explosion in the experimental laboratory section of the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. injured one man last night and destroyed some equipment.

Merrel Dixon of Huntingdon, a company plumber, was reported in satisfactory condition at Blair Memorial Hospital with head and leg cuts suffered in the blast. He was alone in the building at the time.

C. A. Hardwick, plant manager who indicated damage was extensive, said the exact cause of the blast was undetermined. The explosion collapsed one laboratory wall and shattered windows throughout the plant in addition to destroying laboratory equipment. The blast was felt within a mile radius and shattered windows in homes.

TAIPEI (AP)—M. Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds, a native of Coatesville, Pa., whose stateside home is now San Antonio, Tex., must stand trial before an Army general court-martial on a charge of "willful and unlawful" killing of a Chinese prowler March 20.

Emmitsburg PONDER NEW SEWER SYSTEM

EMMITSBURG — Within the next four to six months the Emmitsburg Town Council plans to complete the details relative to the installations of a new sewage system for the community. The council wants the voters' opinion on the project and build up the town's assets before the sewage system can be installed. The council plans to include Emmitt Gardens and other projects if it is agreeable to the taxpayers. It was reported at the monthly meeting Monday in the Firemen's Hall that the state will place more stop signs in Emmitsburg and the surrounding area. The parking places, crossing areas, and the passing lines in the street will be repainted in preparation for the Bicentennial celebration. The council announced that from the gasoline tax money the alleys in Emmitsburg will be repaved in the near future.

4 CLEARED OF CONSPIRACY IN 'MACING' CASES

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four former officials of the Fine Administration have been cleared of conspiracy charges involving the alleged macing of state employees.

Judge Samuel A. Weiss of Allegheny County Criminal Court dismissed the charges yesterday after the Commonwealth had presented the last of nine witnesses in the second day of the trial.

"I have never entertained a weaker case in all my living years on the bench," said Judge Weiss in granting a defense motion for dismissal.

Accused Of Conspiracy

The defendants, all Republicans, were: Frederick P. Hare, former administrative assistant to Gov. John S. Pine; Armas C. Leslie, former state insurance commissioner; George A. Nally, former comptroller of the State Revenue Dept.; and Frederick M. Campbell, former investigator in the Pittsburgh office of the State Insurance Dept.

They were accused of conspiring to force state employees to contribute money for political purposes.

Eleven other former state employees are under indictment on similar charges. Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle, a Democrat, said he planned to confer with his staff to decide whether to try the cases or dismiss them.

"Great Injustice"

All 15 were indicted by a grand jury during the term of former Republican Dist. Atty. James Malone, now president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn.

During the trial eight present or past state employees testified they voluntarily contributed approximately one per cent of their salaries to a 1954 Republican primary campaign fund.

Judge Weiss said prosecution of the case was a "great injustice" and the Commonwealth had not "produced a scintilla of evidence" to support the charges.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Sidney A. Sanes did not oppose the dismissal motion. He said:

"The Commonwealth case is not a strong one. I have given serious thought to this case and have carefully presented it. I have nothing further to say."

FOREIGN AID IS BEING CUT BY PRESIDENT

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said today President Eisenhower is scaling down his foreign aid requests to "the minimum consistent with our own national security."

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he believes Congress will vote about $3,800,000,000 in military and economic assistance for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The President originally asked a total foreign aid program of $4,400,000,000, but has since suggested reducing that figure by 500 millions.

The revised program will be discussed with congressional leaders of both parties in a White House conference with the President tomorrow.

NEW COLOMBIAN ASSEMBLY TO RE-NAME ROJAS

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla's hand-picked Constituent Assembly was slated to give him four more years in office today without an election despite demonstrations and strikes idling some 30,000 persons in Bogota.

The 90-member assembly already has suspended articles of the constitution preventing a president from succeeding himself. Some of the President's conservative followers are divided on the issue, but the walkout of 20 assembly members last night was not expected to stall the session today to name him for a 1958-62 presidential term.

Student demonstrations against Rojas continued in Bogota yesterday. Again they were put down by police pouring streams of dyed red and blue water on the crowds. Hundreds of students were reported arrested.

Under Military Rule
There were indications the situation was even more serious in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city 185 miles southwest of Bogota where Rojas has admitted three students were killed in disorders last week.

Like Bogota, Cali was under military rule.

Partial strikes disrupted business and industrial activity in the capital. Only government-operated banks were open on normal schedules.

Loud-speaker cars toured the streets telling shopkeepers they would be protected if they reopened their doors, but no more than a third responded.

The government issued a decree authorizing the armed force to call up military reservists "without limit on age." Students previously have been generally exempt from military callup.

In a broadcast Monday night, Rojas blamed the trouble on a conflict between labor and employer interests and declared he would stand by the workers.

committee which spent many months studying foreign aid arranged to meet today in a closed session to begin final work on its report.

The tentative report recommends:

1. Greater flexibility for the President in use of aid funds.
 2. A revolving fund for long-term, low-interest loans for economic development abroad. Quota right grants would be reduced to a minimum.
 3. Separation of economic aid for purely military assistance.
- In a recent letter to Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex), Eisenhower disclosed he has suggested that new spending authority for military assistance be reduced by 500 million dollars.
- By transferring some funds previously earmarked for grants to the revolving fund authority, Smith thinks the new foreign aid authorization program will be brought to around $3,800,000,000.

OPEN PROBE OF STEELTON UNION

HARRISBURG (AP) — A preliminary investigation into a nearby Steelton, Pa., local of the United Steel Workers was begun today by an assistant counsel to the Senate Rackets Committee.

Counsel Thomas G. Egan said he expected to talk with officers and members of Local 1688 and complete his investigation by tonight. He said a fuller investigation "will be up to Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy."

Some members of the local whose 4,800 members are employed at the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant, sought the probe after the local was placed under an administrator in January by District 11 of the international union.

The district action came after the local split into faction principally over the candidacies of incumbent President David McDonald and Donald Rarick, a McKeesport, Pa., millhand, in the February election for president of the international. The local voted about 2 to 1 for Rarick, who lost.

NO REASON FOR OUSTING YANK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says Russia has ordered a U. S. diplomat — Martin S. Bowe Jr. — expelled from Moscow without giving any explanation.

Press officer Lincoln White, said the U. S. Embassy has demanded to know why. Bowe is second secretary of the embassy in Moscow. The Russians fixed no deadline for his leaving.

The move was regarded as possible retaliation for the U. S. ouster last month of Gennadi Mashkantsev, a member of the Soviet Embassy staff here. The Russian was expelled for trying to entice Russians living in the United States to return to the Soviet.

BORDER FUSS BREAKS ANEW

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The Organization of American States moved today to head off new border trouble as Honduras accused Nicaragua of breaking the three-day-old truce with attacks at two points.

Nicaragua quickly denied the charges. A spokesman for President Luis Somoza declared his government "sticks to its commitments" to the cease-fire the OAS team negotiated last weekend.

OAS officials rushed investigators to the border last night after Honduran Foreign Minister Jorge Fidel Duron protested that Nicaraguan troops had assaulted Cifuentes. He also claimed the Honduran border town of Las Manos had been subjected to a mortar attack.

Cifuentes is on the frontier about 150 miles west of the Indian village of Mococon, where the border fighting began last week. An unofficial source said several tacked Cifuentes early yesterday. A government communique said the Nicaraguans were driven off "without a single casualty on our side."

Denying the Honduran accusation, President Somoza said in Managua only five Nicaraguan policemen were in the area on his side of the border.

Soviet.

White was asked why Bowe's ouster might have been requested. "We know of absolutely nothing," he said. The press officer added that the Soviet Foreign Ministry had said Bowe must leave immediately because of "activities incompatible with his status as an accredited diplomat."

Bowe, 40, is from Holyoke, Mass. He is a veteran of eight years in the diplomatic service.

The first game of the Little League season has been scheduled for Monday at 6 p.m., when the Lions and Vets meet. The Eagles and Giants will play on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Girl Scouts Meet

The Girl Scouts of Troop 43 met on Monday afternoon in the engine house, at which time they made Mother's Day favors for the Meadowview Convalescent Home, near Union Mills. They also worked on gifts for their mothers for Mother's Day. The opening ceremonies were conducted by patrol three, and the closing by patrol one. One visitor, Freda Arentz, was present.

The girls of Troop 43 will meet on Saturday at 10 a.m. out of doors at the engine house, so as not to interfere with the Brownie meeting indoors. They will then leave to deliver their favors for Mother's Day to Meadowview. Each will take a nosebag lunch to be eaten along the way. Those Scouts who have not completed their gifts are asked to take along two washcloths, a yard of ribbon and needle and thread to match. All the Scouts are asked to take along the articles which they have carved toward the earning of a wood badge.

Episcopians To Erect New Churches

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A $660,000 church building program was outlined yesterday for the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania at the 173rd annual diocesan convention here.

The program includes proposed new churches and rectories in Southampton, King of Prussia and Brookhaven, near Chester, at a cost of $100,000 in each location. The program also includes purchase of a site for a church to serve West Chester-Chadds Ford at an estimated cost of $15,000.

The convention yesterday gave final approval to a change in regulations to permit women to serve as delegates. The vote was 190 to 132. The diocese is the 44th out of 87 in the Episcopal Church to extend convention privileges to women.

HOMEMAKERS' WEEK JUNE 17

Three special interest groups will be given for the fifth consecutive year at Extension Homemakers Week, June 17 to 20, at the Pennsylvania State University, Miss Florence Finger, extension home economist of Adams County, said today. A number of county women are planning to attend.

"You're Chairman of the Meeting" deals with parliamentary procedure for conducting both small and large meetings. Rose M. Cologne of the Penn State education department will lead the discussion.

Mrs. Ruth P. Miller, assistant extension home economist of Montgomery County, will be in charge of the flower arrangement interest group. For the previous two years, Mrs. Miller has shown women the basic principles of simple flower arrangements for their homes.

The third interest group being repeated for the fifth year is "Home Grounds Improvement" with A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist, in charge. He will demonstrate simple techniques in planning with relation to placement of plants, selection of varieties, pruning, and general care of plants and shrubs.

The selection of practical photographic equipment, how to take good pictures, and how to tell a story effectively will be discussed in the interest group, "Photography," George F. Johnson, extension visual aids specialist, is in charge of the group, being given for the third year. Miss Finger suggests that homemakers who have participated in the photography group the previous two years do not take it this year, since the same basic principles will be given.

PONDER POSTAL RATE INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee today considers the increased postage rates the administration has asked for magazines, newspapers and advertising matter.

For magazines and newspapers (second-class mail), the proposed increase is 15 per cent a year for four years.

For advertising matter (third-class mail), the administration is asking a 1 cent raise on individual piece mailings, now 2 cents for the first two ounces, and an increase of 2 cents per pound on bulk mailings.

Yesterday the committee formally approved increased rates on first-class and domestic air mail that would add an estimated $365,800,000 a year in postal revenues.

These included increasing the first-class (letter) rate from 3 to 4 cents an ounce, post cards from 2 to 3 cents each, and air mail

There is nothing weak about the role the so-called weaker sex is playing in traffic safety—they are doing a man-sized job. That is the opinion of Miss Alice C. Mills, director of women's activities of the National Safety Council, who said that school safety programs, bicycle safety and highway improve-warheads and has a range of several hundred miles, enough to hit some of Red China's biggest air bases opposite Formosa. The United States said the missiles were being stationed on Formosa solely for the defensive purpose of deterring and if necessary repelling an attack.

The expected Chinese Communist reaction was broadcast by the Peiping radio.

Quoting the official Communist party organ, Peiping People's Daily, it said the "Chinese people's determination to liberate Taiwan (Formosa) will never be shaken by the stationing of an American atomic weapons unit on that island."

TURN DOWN VOTE

POND DU LAC, Wis. (AP) — A woman voter walked into a polling place, looked around the room and asked somewhat disdainfully: "Do I have to vote?"

"You don't have to vote," a member of the election board informed her, "but you're foolish if you don't."

"There isn't a soul on the ballot I'd want to vote for," the visitor remarked and walked out.

ment seem to be the favorite projects of safety-minded women.

She said an analysis of entries in the 1956 Carol Lane Award program revealed that these three areas received the most attention, although activities were spread over a wide range of interests.

The Carol Lane Awards — named for the women's travel director of Shell Oil Co. and administered by the council through a Shell Oil grant — are presented annually to the three individual women and three women's or parents' organizations that have developed and directed the most effective traffic safety programs.

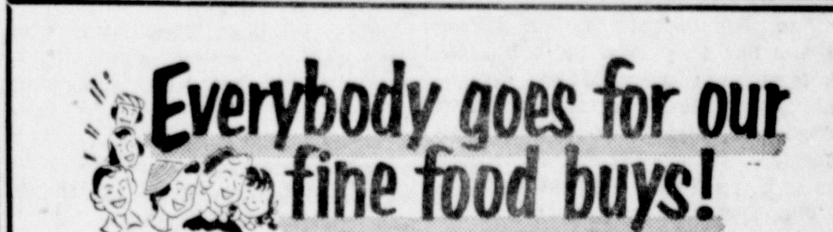

Women who have furthered traffic safety programs between June 15, 1956, and June 15, 1957, are eligible for 1957 Carol Lane awards totaling $3,500, Miss Mills said.

The awards are the only national recognition given women for their contribution to the preservation of lives through traffic safety programs in their community or state.

They were established to reward women for work in traffic safety and to encourage other women to help make streets and highways safer.

Last year's top individual winner initiated a motor vehicle inspection program in nine Iowa towns, while a Georgia women's organization took the top award for launching driver education programs in 11 high schools.

Entries in the 1957 awards program should be mailed to Miss Mills at the National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Ill., before midnight, June 15. Entry blanks and information about the awards also may be obtained from her.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was far from their purpose, but the Democrats' complaints against the Eisenhower administration show how close the Democrats and Republicans have grown together since President Eisenhower took office.

For most of 20 years the Republicans had been about the Democrats' social program. "Creeping socialism" was the phrase they used to frighten the voters. But Eisenhower and his party, once in power, took them over wholesale.

The Republicans under Eisenhower not only took over, but expanded, the Democrats' foreign policy of economic aid, military assistance, and alliances that ring Russia.

Have Three Complaints

The Democratic party's 24-man advisory council — including former President Truman and would-be President Adlai Stevenson — met here over the weekend and drew up three main complaints about the way Eisenhower is handling things.

They didn't like his tight money policy. They didn't like the way he runs foreign affairs. And they were against laws that forbid the union shop.

No complaint that the administration was anti-labor. No complaint about the administration's efforts in social legislation. No complaint against the administration's stand on civil rights.

They completely avoided civil rights. It would have been embarrassing to do otherwise. It is Eisenhower who asked Congress to approve civil rights legislation to protect Negroes' voting rights. It's Southern Democrats who are trying to block it.

Embarrassing Statement
Even the Democratic council's statement against a ban on the union shop was self-conscious and, apparently embarrassing, not so much by what it said as by what it left unsaid.

It's the Southern Democrats who proposed outlawing the union shop as a device for killing the civil rights bill.

Since it wasn't Eisenhower who suggested anti-union shop legislation, the council members could not blame him. But, while condemning such legislation, they lacked the courage to blame the fellow Democrats from the South who sponsored it.

Their complaint against Eisenhower's foreign policy found no fault with his basic programs — it was the Democrats who thought of them first — but his "day to day conduct" of foreign policy.

When the council complained about the lack of real leadership by Eisenhower in dealing with Congress, it was on firmer ground. He has provided very little leadership there.

The council's big emphasis was on the money policy, which is a pretty good illustration of how much the differences between the two parties has narrowed down. In years past they could differ on much broader domestic grounds than that.

CARLISLE WINS STATE CONTEST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Carlisle today was named the small-town winner of the statewide Community Development contest conducted by the State Chamber of Commerce.

The Cumberland County community, first repeat winner in contest history, won $1,500 for "general civic and economic improvements."

The city won the 1955 contest. Its latest triumph was achieved in the contest's Class B division for communities with a 10,000-25,000 population.

Hazleton was named winner yesterday in the Class A division (cities over 25,000).

Second prize of $1,000 in the smaller community division went to Indiana. Other winners: Third—Monessen ($750), fourth—Jeanette ($500); honorable mention—Carbondale, Chambersburg, Donora and Nanticoke.

Runnersup in the big city division were: Second—Washington ($1,000); third—Uniontown ($750); fourth—Erie ($500); honorable mention—Reading and Williamsport.

The winning Carlisle projects were entered in the contest by the Carlisle Community Development Council.

Hazleton was commended for programs entered by the Hazleton Chamber of Commerce.

Lioness Won't Aid Cameramen
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The keepers at Griffith Park Zoo did their best, but Toughie, African lioness who gave birth to two cubs April 22, wouldn't cooperate with photographers who tried to get pictures of her young.

Mike Wendt, chief keeper, and Dan Simmons, an assistant, threw up their hands in disgust after two hours trying to coax Toughie into an adjacent cage.

The keepers threw hunks of red meat, sent a stream of water into the cage, and used a lot of sweet talk to persuade mama lion to go visit her husband, Rocky, in the adjacent cage.

The cubs slept through it all. Preferring to be "live crows," the photographers refused to enter the cage, but Rocky got a whiff of the meat, wandered into Toughie's cage, and got a pop across the proboscis. He retreated.

Boiler Factories No Longer Noisy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Boilermakers — blacksmiths today spiked a popular old saying — "noisy as a boiler factory"—as something which simply isn't true any more.

"A lot of people think we still pound away in crude, caveman fashion, in an atmosphere where you can't hear yourself think," said a trade spokesman at the brotherhood's quadrennial convention. "Whereas the fact is we're in the near-automation stage, and before long we'll be playing an important part in the use of atomic energy for peacetime purposes. Our changeover to modern technology means the phrase-makers will have to figure out a new simile for a deafening noise."

Court Okays Highball In Wife's Face

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Businessman Russell Seery was perfectly justified in throwing the contents of a highball glass into his wife's face and complaining about her cooking, the Pennsylvania Superior Court ruled yesterday.

The court refused the divorce plea of Mrs. Florence Nola Seery, whom Seery, a furniture dealer, married 26 years ago.

She had accused her husband of indignities and cruel and barbarous treatment because of the highball incident and his complaints about her cooking.

The Superior Court, noting that the highball affair occurred after
Mrs. Seery "submitted" to kisses of a guest at a party, said the record fails to support her

RICHARDS TO RETURN TODAY TO GIVE REPORT

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Roving Ambassador James P. Richards returns today to report to President Eisenhower that Middle Eastern countries are largely united in their determination to resist the spread of Soviet communism.

Richards has visited 15 Middle Eastern countries during the last two months. He headed a mission sent to explain the Eisenhower program for using force if necessary to oppose any open aggression by international communism, and meanwhile to strengthen the region with economic and military assistance.

Before leaving Rabat, Morocco, last night, Richards told newsmen most of the countries accepted the principle of the Eisenhower program.

Committed Aid Funds
"None of the 15 nations which this mission has visited rejected proposals of American aid in the framework of the doctrine," he said.

Richards is understood to have committed about 115 million dollars of aid funds. Congress has authorized use of up to 200 millions for the program.

Officials said the mission was on the whole highly successful in focusing attention in the area on the Communist threat. It brought expressions by a dozen or more governments of determination to oppose communism.

Couldn't Reach Some
If there was failure in any part it was in Richards' inability even to call on the leaders of Egypt, Syria and Jordan. In the case of Jordan, recently racked by internal crisis, the failure is not considered significant since King Hussein has put down pro-Soviet elements and succeeded in orienting his country toward the West. He also proclaimed that international communism was the enemy of Jordan.

Egypt and Syria have strong pro-Soviet ties.

A Concrete Step
Eisenhower called his special envoy home in time to report to bipartisan meeting of congressional leaders at the White House tomorrow.

One of the concrete steps developed in connection with the trip was the U. S. decision to join the Military Committee of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact. The members of the alliance are Iraq, Turkey, Pakistan, Iran and Britain.

Apart from the Middle East members of the Baghdad Pact, the countries which Richards visited included Libya, the Sudan, Saudi Arabia, Israel, Lebanon, Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Tunisia, Morocco, Greece and Yemen.

NO LONGER

BOSTON (AP)—Christianity as a "white man's religion" in the Far East is rapidly becoming a thing of the past, says Dr. Alford Carleton, of Boston, Mass.

Dr. Carleton, head of the American Board of Commissioners of the Congregational Christian Churches, said on return from an Eastern Asia church conference that steady progress is being made in getting "the white man's coloring out of the missionary movement in the Far East" and turning it "over to the nations involved."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

COSTELLO IS GIVEN 30 DAYS FOR CONTEMPT

NEW YORK (AP)—Dapper gambler Frank Costello languished in a jail cell today because he refused to talk about a mysterious note on $651,284 in winnings.

The one time king of the nation's racketeers was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse yesterday after he clammed up before a grand jury.

He remained silent, he said, because answers might incriminate him. But a judge ruled him in contempt of court.

Linked To Shooting
Police found the note on Costello after a pot-bellied assassin shot him Thursday night. The bullet only grazed the skull of the 66-year-old gambler.

The note read in part: "Gross casino wins as of 4-26-57 $651,284. Casino wins less markers $435,695."

"Marker" is better slang for an IOU. One police theory is that somebody unable to pay off his "marker" decided to murder Costello.

Given 30 Days

The gambler was shot in the lobby of a swank apartment house overlooking Central Park. He was headed for his apartment when a gunman lunged into the lobby and fired a .38-caliber bullet at him.

After one fruitless session with the jury, Costello was taken before General Sessions Judge Jacob Schurman. The judge sent him back to the jury again with orders to talk.

Costello refused a second time. The judge then held him in contempt of court and sentenced him to 30 days in the workhouse.

TEETOTALERS ARE

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The Denver Waitress and Bartender School trains only teetotalers.

"Absolutely no alcohol is permitted on the premises," says Donald Howe, the man in charge. "Smoking is forbidden, too."

"Clubs and restaurants desire personnel who are able to mix any of hundreds of fashionable concoctions quickly, adroitly and without waste," Howe explains. "We teach our classes by using bottles containing water."

The students spend the first three of about 50 class periods learning all of the trade's equipment. "Only then are they allowed to attempt their first Manhattan," Howe says.

Pa. Constitution Needs Change: Clark

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Efficient state government is hampered by Pennsylvania's "inadequate and in many respects impossible" constitution, says Sen. Clark (D-Pa.).

Clark, speaking last night at a Lebanon County Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, urged Republicans and Democrats to cooperate to bring the state's 1873 constitution up to date. Revision is not a partisan matter, Clark said, adding:

"A good constitution is necessary without delay, and I urge all good Democrats to join with like-minded Republicans and interested nonpartisan groups in supporting Gov. Leader's efforts to have the present session of the Legislature pass the legislation necessary to get a new constitution drafted."

Johns Hopkins Prof Finds Small World

BAITMORE (AP)—You couldn't blame Dr. Moses Paulson, associate professor of medicine at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, if he felt the world is awfully small.

Returning from a trip around the world, in which he lectured under auspices of the State Department, Dr. Paulson noted:

1. In Istanbul, the young Turkish woman who was his interpreter had taken part of her training in the Johns Hopkins tissue laboratory.

2. In Bangkok, he met Mrs. Frost Parrish, cultural attaché at the American Embassy and the daughter of a pioneer public-health scientist at Johns Hopkins.

3. In Tokyo, a clipping from the New York Times pasted to the wall of an optical plant told of some American medical-optical research. One of the researchers mentioned was Dr. Moses Paulson.

4. In Hong Kong, the consul general was Everett Drumright, a former patient of Dr. Paulson's at Johns Hopkins.

KHRUSHCHEV'S NEW PLAN IS NO GREAT CHANGE

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
Nikita Khrushchev's new plan to "decentralize" the Soviet economy isn't the sweeping transfer of power from the Kremlin that a first glance might make it seem.

The Communist party boss has asked the Soviet Parliament, the Supreme Soviet, at its current session to approve the abolition of 20 large centralized ministries in Moscow. Their functions will be turned over to 92 regional economic councils scattered over the vast Soviet territory.

The party chief claims that many problems can be decided on the spot, without referring them to Moscow. The new economic organization, he says, will make possible sharp cuts in the huge army of supervising bureaucrats. He even claims that the center of gravity in economic affairs will be transferred from Moscow to the provinces.

There is probably some truth in this. The Soviet economy is now large and complex for the present highly centralized administration.

But there can never be any real decentralization of authority until the Soviet government ceases to be totalitarian.

Close study shows that Khrushchev's new economic organization system does not relax the Kremlin's central authority and control in the least. It only transfers the transmission of that authority and control into a different channel of communication.

In the past the real Soviet government—the Communist Party Central Committee—Presidium and its secretariat—gave their orders on economic matters to ministers heading the ministries. Under the new plan the ruling group will give them to the top party secretaries in the various regions of the U.S.S.R.

The top men will not stop giving the orders, and they will probably give almost as many as they have been handing out.

Moscow will still set prices and wages, fix tax rates, collect taxes, disburse government expenditures, allocate scarce materials, operate and control the financial system, determine economic policies, allocate capital investments and set economic plans.

The Soviet government in Moscow will still control, under the same old ministries for the most part, the vast sectors of the industrial economy devoted to manufacture of arms, atomic weapons, electric power and machinery.

The Soviet government has come out before with much smaller schemes to decentralize the economy. They all failed.

Why? Because any genuine decentralization would require the Soviet government to limit its own powers. This contradicts the essence of Soviet totalitarianism.

German Youth's Adventures Land Him In Columbus Jail

By BURT VAN ATTA
The Ohio State Journal
(Written for the A)
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's hard to get into trouble on both sides of the Iron Curtain. But Fritz Franz Werner did it.

The Russians want him. The Americans have him. He's in Franklin County Jail.

A 25-year-old native of Danzig, the solemn-faced German youth has had an amazing series of adventures.

"Wanted To Kill"
Too young to be drafted into the German army in World War II, Fritz grew up in Danzig. Russian victory brought eventual death to the youth's parents. He doesn't talk about it: "They were just killed."

He escaped at 18 to West Germany and won a job as a mechanic with U. S. occupation forces. But the death of his parents preyed on his mind. "I wanted to kill. I wanted to fight the Communists," he told newsmen in county jail.

Escaped To Holland
So he joined the French Foreign Legion. In Indochina, he fought Red-led guerrillas for two years. Sent later to North Africa, the youth deserted. He lived on his wits until he made it back to Danzig.

The Russians grabbed him. He was sent to work in the coal mines. "I knew the work; I did it," he noted.

Again he escaped and made his way to Holland, where he tried nearly every ship in Rotterdam. "I had in my head I wanted to go to the States."

Days passed. Finally a sympathetic dockworker slipped him on a liner for 150 marks.

The ship docked on Jan. 14 in the midst of New York City dock strike. Fritz sneaked off with other baggage toting passengers.

Broke and without a sponsor, the youth worked his way through a series of jobs from New York to New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He wound up in Pittsburgh, penniless.

Hungry, Hunting Work
"I got hungry crazy. I was crazy. I steal this car. I think if I could just drive it to Indianapolis where a man tells me there is a lot of work. I could leave it by a police station and it will get back where it belongs," he said.

Suspicious of Fritz's rambling story on how he got the car, Columbus police took him to patrol headquarters. There Fritz told the whole story.

He was held for federal authorities.

The 2-year-old colt Peter Spice was named after his sire—Peter Flower—and dam—Saucy Wilhelmina.

Colombia Students Stage Riot Again

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Many students were reported under arrest today after a fresh outbreak of antigovernment demonstrations in Bogota, a general business slowdown and continuing student strikes.

Police again moved in with tear gas and streams of dyed water to break up the rioting late on Monday. They were said to have seized and jailed "many" students from among the crowds.

In a radio-television address Monday night, President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla said three persons had been killed in Cali and two in Bogota.

The President described the situation in Colombia as a conflict between vested employer interests and the workers. He pledged the army would stand with the workers, "united unto death" if necessary.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Ten Sydney University students in pirate dress boarded the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington before reveille Tuesday.

They climbed unchallenged to the bridge and sent 2,500 American officers and sailors to battle stations by sounding the general alarm.

It was more than five minutes before the ship's company realized they were victims of a Commemoration Day prank.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate rejected Monday night 24-17 a proposal that would outlaw the use of air rifles by persons under 18 years old. It takes 26 votes to pass.

BANK TELLER FOUND SLAIN

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A slain bank teller, his hands tied to bedposts with nylon parachute cord, a gag in his mouth and a bullet wound in the head, was found early on Monday by a fellow employee.

Franklin M. Doan, 28, was discovered in his efficiency apartment in a quiet residential area by John Whiteside Jr., an employee at the same bank. Doan had come to Tucson for his health from Toms River, N.J.

"Death was definitely a homicide," said ex-officio coroner Norman Green.

There was a single bullet wound in the right side of his head, and the spent slug beneath him.

Investigators said Doan apparently had gagged and tied face down on the bed, since there was no evidence of struggle. No bruises or scratches were found on his body.

A green bath towel apparently used to deaden the gun report was found, scorched by gunpowder.

Charles Coates, investigator for the Pima County attorney's office, said the gun has not been found.

Dr. George O. Hartman, pathologist, said Doan died between 9 and 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

May Sell Dauphin County Jail Site

HARRISBURG (AP)—The site of Dauphin County's old jail may be up for sale.

The county commissioners, abandoning plans to lease the property, asked Dauphin County Court Monday for permission to sell the site to the highest bidder.

The commissioners said they had received a better offer than the $250,000 made at public auction a year ago. That offer was rejected. If approved, the new bids would be sealed.

The jail itself is gone. It was torn down and replaced by a new structure on the outskirts of the city.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Increases in school fares and token costs proposed by the Philadelphia Transportation Co. were under Public Utility Commission suspension Tuesday.

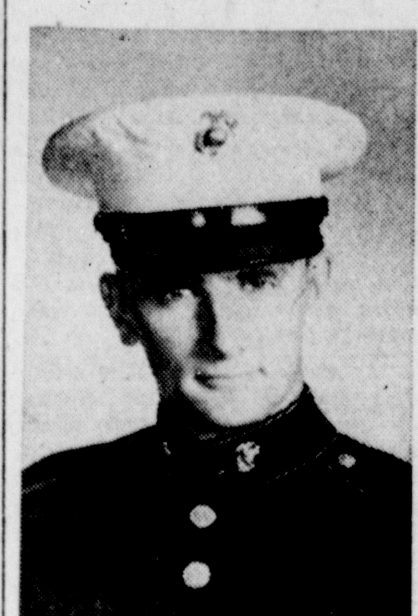

The increases, filed to take effect June 2, were put off six months. The commission proposed the delay pending an investigation of the request. The company had estimated the increases would produce additional annual revenue of $383,500.

READING, Pa. (AP)—Michael Puchinski, 34, burned to death Tuesday when the house trailer he occupied in the Reading Trailer Park in Lower Alsace Twp. near here caught fire.

Firemen found his body under the bed after they put out the flames. The trailer was burned out. The cause of the blaze was not immediately known.

Former Red Sox first baseman Tony Lupien coaches baseball at Dartmouth. He also is assistant basketball coach.

BONN (AP)—British Prime Minister Macmillan flew to Bonn Tuesday for a sweeping three-day review of British-German relations with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Macmillan was the first British prime minister to visit a German government in more than 18 years, since the late Neville Chamberlain went vainly seeking "Peace in our time" from Hitler at Munich in 1938.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A U. S. Marine created a ruckus on Monday by going around tearing down flags the Indonesians had put up in honor of the state visit of Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov.

The U. S. Embassy announced today it had apologized to the Foreign Ministry and had ordered the Marine, whose name is being withheld by officials of all sides, to leave the country. The Marine was a member of the embassy's armed guard.

WOULD BOOST PA. CEILINGS ON SCHOOL AID

HARRISBURG (AP)—The ceiling on school construction qualifying for state aid would be boosted to $1,200,000,000 by the 1960-61 school year.

year under legislation backed today by two House Republican leaders.

Reps. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, and Allen M. Gibson (R-Warren), asked the House to approve a plan boosting the present limits each year—including the current 1956-57 school year—until 1959.

The bill would also establish limits for the 1959-60 and 1960-61 school years.

For the current year the limit

WET WEATHER STRIKES WEST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stormy and wet weather hit wide areas in the western two thirds of the country today but it was mostly fair and warm again in the eastern sections.

After several days of comparative mild weather in most of the nation, storms erupted yesterday and last night in parts of the central plains and upper Mississippi Valley. Tornado warnings were issued for areas in the Dakotas and Minnesota, but no twisters reported.

However, a funnel cloud was sighted near Aberdeen, S. D. Winds of around 40 m.p.h. whipped areas hit by the thunderstorms which spread from the Dakotas through Minnesota and into western Wisconsin during the night. Wind gusts of nearly 60 m.p.h. were reported at Sioux City, Iowa, earlier yesterday. Dust clouds reduced visibility to about a mile in northwestern Kansas.

set by the 1953 legislature is 725 million dollars. The new bill would boost the ceiling by 50 millions.

For the 1957-58 school year the ceiling would go up from 825 millions to 975 millions, and for the 1958-59 year from 925 millions to $1,050,000,000.

The limit would be $1,125,000,000 for 1959-60 and $1,200,000,000 for 1960-61.

The reason for the increases is the rocketing cost of school construction.

Since the 1953-55 biennium the state subsidy for school construction has nearly tripled. The subsidy in the 1953-55 biennium was $16,214,716. In the following two-year period, which expires this June 1, the subsidy jumped to $3,599,000. Gov. Leader's budget calls for subsidies in the 1957-59 biennium of $47,533,000.

The state pays a share, according to school district reimbursement formulas, toward annual rental or sinking fund charges on school buildings.

The effect of the ceiling on school construction qualifying for state aid is to provide a curb by which the state can limit the start of new schools.

AID MOTHER, CHILD
Borough police, through the Salvation Army, Monday evening provided lodging for the night for Mrs. Mary Alice Lee, Fort Pierce Fla., and her 14-month-old child. Mrs. Lee told police she and her husband, Chester Lee, had resided near Gettysburg and then had gone to Florida. About halfway there, according to Mrs. Lee, her husband abandoned her.

USE TEAR GAS TO BREAK RIOT

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Subdued convicts at the North Dakota Penitentiary, driven back into their cells by a tear gas attack after a five-hour riot, were described as "quiet and normal" today.

The 220 inmates barricaded themselves in a cell block yesterday and howled, cursed and smashed doors and tables in protest against the prison food and actions of certain guards.

Bismarck police led a tear gas attack which quelled the demonstration.

Officers estimated only about 60 inmates actually took part in the demonstration, although all retired to the cell block after the uproar started in the prison yard.

Warden O. J. Nygaard said the convicts spent the night without incident. He blamed the riot on "seven or eight ornery guys," described as chronic troublemakers at the prison. Nygaard said no disciplinary moves have been decided on as yet.

children live in Japan, and A.2.C. James Marlin McNeil, San Diego, Calif.

Both were reported in good condition. They parachuted into Suruga Bay before the big four-engine KB50 went down and were picked up by Japanese fishing boats.

The Japanese coast guard said it understood that four of the eight crewmen had bailed out but the Air Force had no confirmation of this.

Names of the missing men were withheld. Air Force planes and U. S. and Japanese ships were searching the area.
